Assistance to make a complaint

If you wish to have a representative lodge and handle a complaint on your behalf, you may authorise us to deal directly with that person. This can be anybody that you nominate aged over 18, including a financial counsellor, family member, friend or a carer. If you need further help with the complaints process, contact us using any of the above channels and we will try to assist you.

What happens after making a complaint?

- We'll acknowledge your complaint within one business day of receipt or as soon as practicable and record it in our Complaints Register.
- We aim to resolve complaints on the spot or within three business days and to advise you of the outcome via your preferred contact method. However, some complaints may take longer to resolve.
- We aim to resolve more complex complaints within 21 calendar days. In these cases, we will give you the name and contact details of the person managing your complaint in case you wish to discuss your complaint while it's being reviewed. We'll advise you of the outcome in writing. If we need longer than 21 days, we'll let you know and will continue to provide progress updates.
- We'll advise of the outcome of any hardship complaints in writing.

What if I'm not happy with the outcome?

Once your dispute has been reviewed by us, if you are not satisfied with the outcome or process you may request a review by our Internal Dispute Resolution compliance team who will make a final decision on behalf of First Option Bank. Once your complaint has been reviewed by our Internal Dispute Resolution Compliance team, if you are still not satisfied with the outcome you may refer your complaint to the Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA) who provide an external and impartial procedure for resolving disputes between financial institutions and their customers. The service is free of charge.

Please note that AFCA is unable to deal with your dispute unless you have attempted to resolve the issue with us first. You can contact AFCA by:
